BIO

Cyndia L. Marlin is an accomplished educational leader with over 11 years of experience as an associate principal and 3 years as the principal of iHigh Virtual Academy, during which she has demonstrated a strong commitment to enhancing instructional practices and promoting equity within educational settings.

Cyndia has a proven track record in community relations and data interpretation, successfully aligning instructional programs with student needs and effectively allocating resources to support these initiatives. Her leadership has led to documented success in implementing strategies for differentiated instruction, ensuring that all students have access to meet state standards and graduation requirements, and improved attendance across grade levels.

Throughout her career, Cyndia has initiated transformative educational programs, including the implementation of a co-teaching model in special education that significantly improved student test scores and self-esteem. She has effectively utilized data to design focused reading classes for students reading several years below grade level and has developed a student-centered master schedule that fosters relationships between staff and students. Additionally, Cyndia's professional experience includes roles at various educational institutions, including iHigh Virtual Academy, Monroe Clark Middle School, and Azusa Pacific University, where she inspired future educators and taught essential skills in curriculum design and differentiation as an adjunct professor.

Cyndia's core strengths include a deep cultural sensitivity and the ability to implement equity-based, diverse educational programs. Cyndia is bilingual, fluent in both English and Spanish, further enhancing her ability to connect with a diverse student population.

Cyndia holds an Administrative Credential from Azusa Pacific University and a Master's degree in Education from the University of San Diego, complemented by a Bachelor's degree in Liberal Studies from Point Loma Nazarene University. Her dedication to educational excellence and community engagement makes her a valuable asset to any educational organization.
